Sease Farms wants you to ‘Get Lost’ in corn maze

COLUMBIA, SC – Fall in South Carolina is a great time to get outdoors and the folks at Clinton Sease Farms in Lexington invite you to ‘Get Lost’ in their corn maze this fall.

This year’s maze explores the heritage of our freedoms and the importance of voting in safeguarding the rights that were passed down from our founding fathers. Visitors can choose the way as they discover games and clues. Maize-o-Vision secret decoders help navigate the puzzle. After ‘Getting Lost’ in the corn maze visit the Kiddie Corn Maze, Tire Maze, the John Deere Tricycle Raceway, or the corn snake and rubber duck races.

Maize Quest is open Friday from 5 p.m. to 11 p.m., Saturday from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m., and Sunday from 2 p.m. to 7 p.m. Every Friday and Saturday night is Flashlight Night. Visitors need to bring their own flashlights for this nighttime activity. Admission is only $8 per person, kids three and under get in free. Hayrides are also available for $2 per person.

To get to Clinton Sease Farms, take US 1 west from Lexington past Lexington High School, and turn left onto Olde Farm Road. Maize Quest is 1.2 miles on the right on Olde Farm Road. This year’s maze begins Sept. 19 and runs through Nov. 23.
